

You attend today September 24, 2015 at the French national conference to conclude FEFI project. Your observations and comments are important to us in the implementation of the procedure and the responses to date will be consolidated.

Thank you to give us this form completed at the end of the conference.

France : SYNTHESIS of FEED-BACK from FEFI Critical friends

What are, in your view, the strengths of the project discovered during the conference?

The highlight of the conference was the videoconference with European partners. These reflections allow for anyone to not feel alone in their mission and to enrich with other experiences and practices on the subject of education done to female inmates.

It was interesting to observe the difference in approaches from one country to another, the diversity of solutions, the pooling of experiences.

What would be, from your point of view, the weaknesses of this FEFI project?

Psycho-social approach and formal training for skills have been somewhat forgotten
Contains of different workshops were very stereotypical, highly feminized (especially Turkey)
The case of female minors was not discussed and the issue of maternity in jail ignored
The issue of women imprisoned for often minor offenses (and therefore very short sentences) was not examined

Do you intend to visit FEFI website to learn a little more about this European project?

100 % of conference participants who responded to the questionnaire answered YES.

« I want to extend this questioning to adapt and enrich my teaching »

« Not only visit but to participate. A regional committee consisting of various stakeholders involved could foster a dynamic particularly in prevention through better information »

Would you give us some suggestions for a possible continuation of this project?

How to build partnerships with social services, justice, education,... to improve and support training for female inmates?

How to build a post-detention follow-up leading to their real social and professional integration?

Prisons managers should be involved in this kind of project to invest a little more the topic of the sentenced plans during detention periods.

How to consider the possibility of an "inclusive education" for young female inmates?

Anything else? Please explain.

« I would have liked to be informed of this project from its inception, which would have allowed me to better prepare myself to international findings or work differently on my whereabouts »

The short duration of such a conference with so important issue.
